Index

Agbor-Baiyee, W., Orienting students using a case-based instructional approach: A case study, 36(1), 20-28.

Akinoglu, O., Internet and Internet use: Teacher trainees' perspective. 36(2), 97-103

Alsmadi, Y. & Alsmadi, A., Detecting differential functioning in emotional intelligence. 36(4), 284-288.

Amsel, E., Johnston, A., Alvarado, E., Kettering, J, Rankin, L. & Ward, M, The effect of perspective on misconceptions in psychology: A test of conceptual change theory. 36(4), 289-295.

Aydin, E., An evaluation of the aims of the faculty school partnership scheme by mathematic student teachers and their mentors. 36(3), 273-281.

Bai, H,. Wang, LS., Pan, W. & Frey, M. Measuring mathematical anxiety: Psychometric analysis of a bidimentional affective scale. 36(3), 185-93.

Baloglu, N., Negative behavior of teachers without regard to high school students in the classroom setting.. 36(1), 69-78.

Bolkan S., & Goodboy, A., Transformational leadership in the classroom: Fostering student learning, student participation, and teacher credibility, 36(4), 296-306.

Bowman, L.L., Does posting PowerPoint presentations on WebCT affect class performance or attendance? 36(2), 104-7.

Church, E., Facing reality: What are doctoral students' chances for success? 36(4), 307-316.

Desai, M, Hart, J., & Richard, T., An IT Manager's view on E-mail and Internet Policies and Procedures. 36(4), 317-322.

Ediger, M., Rating teacher of social studies instruction. 36(4), 323-325.

Egbochuku, E.O. & Aihie, N.O., Peer group counseling and school influence on adolescents' self-concept. 36(1), 3-12.

Emfinger, K., Numerical conceptions reflected during multiage child-initiated pretend play. 36(4), 326-334.

Firmin, M.W., Johnson, E.J., & Walker, J. Professional human services occupation biases represented in General Psychology textbooks. 36(3), 194-202.

Goodboy, A.K. & Myers, S.A. The relationship between perceived instructor immediacy and student challenge behavior. 36(2), 108-112.

Gu W., & Yawkey, T.D., An investigation of teachers' attitudes between school- and home-based family intervention models utilized by public school teachers in the People's Republic of China. 36(1), 49-58.

Haeseler, L.A., Biblio-therapeutic book creations by pre-service student teachers: Helping elementary school children cope. 36(2), 113-6.

Hammermeister, J., Pickering, M.A., & Ohlson, C.J., Teaching mental skills for self-esteem enhancement in a military healthcare setting. 36(3), 203-10.

House, J.D., Classroom instructional strategies and science career interest for adolescent students in Korea: Results from the TIMSS Assessemt. 36(1), 13-19.

Huang, J., What happens when two cultures meet in the classroom. 36(4), 335-342.

Hwang, Y.S., Fisher, W., & Vrongistinos, K., Calibrating a measure of gender differences in motivation for learning technology. 36(3), 259-272.

Kayali, H.,Effects of near-to-far principle and other factors on learning and teaching some geography subjects in the social studies course. 36(2), 175-182.

Index

Agbor-Baiyee, W., Orienting students using a case-based instructional approach: A case study, 36(1), 20-28.

Akinoglu, O., Internet and Internet use: Teacher trainees' perspective. 36(2), 97-103

Alsmadi, Y. & Alsmadi, A., Detecting differential functioning in emotional intelligence. 36(4), 284-288.

Amsel, E., Johnston, A., Alvarado, E., Kettering, J, Rankin, L. & Ward, M, The effect of perspective on misconceptions in psychology: A test of conceptual change theory. 36(4), 289-295.

Aydin, E., An evaluation of the aims of the faculty school partnership scheme by mathematic student teachers and their mentors. 36(3), 273-281.

Bai, H,. Wang, LS., Pan, W. & Frey, M. Measuring mathematical anxiety: Psychometric analysis of a bidimentional affective scale. 36(3), 185-93.

Baloglu, N., Negative behavior of teachers without regard to high school students in the classroom setting.. 36(1), 69-78.

Bolkan S., & Goodboy, A., Transformational leadership in the classroom: Fostering student learning, student participation, and teacher credibility, 36(4), 296-306.

Bowman, L.L., Does posting PowerPoint presentations on WebCT affect class performance or attendance? 36(2), 104-7.

Church, E., Facing reality: What are doctoral students' chances for success? 36(4), 307-316.

Desai, M, Hart, J., & Richard, T., An IT Manager's view on E-mail and Internet Policies and Procedures. 36(4), 317-322.

Ediger, M., Rating teacher of social studies instruction. 36(4), 323-325.

Egbochuku, E.O. & Aihie, N.O., Peer group counseling and school influence on adolescents' self-concept. 36(1), 3-12.

Emfinger, K., Numerical conceptions reflected during multiage child-initiated pretend play. 36(4), 326-334.

Firmin, M.W., Johnson, E.J., & Walker, J. Professional human services occupation biases represented in General Psychology textbooks. 36(3), 194-202.

Goodboy, A.K. & Myers, S.A. The relationship between perceived instructor immediacy and student challenge behavior. 36(2), 108-112.

Gu W., & Yawkey, T.D., An investigation of teachers' attitudes between school- and home-based family intervention models utilized by public school teachers in the People's Republic of China. 36(1), 49-58.

Haeseler, L.A., Biblio-therapeutic book creations by pre-service student teachers: Helping elementary school children cope. 36(2), 113-6.

Hammermeister, J., Pickering, M.A., & Ohlson, C.J., Teaching mental skills for self-esteem enhancement in a military healthcare setting. 36(3), 203-10.

House, J.D., Classroom instructional strategies and science career interest for adolescent students in Korea: Results from the TIMSS Assessemt. 36(1), 13-19.

Huang, J., What happens when two cultures meet in the classroom. 36(4), 335-342.

Hwang, Y.S., Fisher, W., & Vrongistinos, K., Calibrating a measure of gender differences in motivation for learning technology. 36(3), 259-272.

Kayali, H.,Effects of near-to-far principle and other factors on learning and teaching some geography subjects in the social studies course. 36(2), 175-182.

Kelly, K.E. & Kneipp, N.. You do what you are: The relationship between the Scale of Creative Attributes and behavior and vocational interests. 36(1), 79-83.
Kuhle, B.X., Barber, J.M.& Bristol, A.S., Predicting students' performance in Introductory Psychology from their psychological misconceptions. 36(2), 119-24.
Lee, L. Boys like smart girls more than pretty girls: Young Korean immigrant girls' understanding of romantic love in popular American culture. 36(1), 87-94.
Lee, S.A., Jones, W.P.., Crank, J.N., & Krach, S.K.., Using self-instruction to teach counseling skills top School Psychology Students: An efficacy study. 36(1), 35-48.
Marrs, H., Sigler, E., & Hayes, K. Study strategy predictors of performance in introductory psychology. 36(2), 125-33.
McGuire, M.J. & McDonald, P.M., Relation of early testing and incentive on quiz performance in introductory psychology. 36(2), 134-141.
McKee, M. & MacDonald, P., Assessment of teenage diaries for teaching concepts in adolescent psychology. 36(4), 343-346.
McMurray, A.J. & Sorrells, D. Bridging the Gap: Reaching first-generation students in the classroom. 36(3), 210-4.
McNamar, M.M., Using a Real Life contract bid for students to learn mathematics. 36(2), 142-147.
Nunn, G.D., Jantz, P.B., & Butikofer, C., Concurrent validity between teacher efficacy and perceptions of response to intervention outcomes. 36(3), 215-8.
Okpala, C.O., James, I., & Hopson, L. Effectiveness of National Board Gifted Teachers: Policy implications. 36(1), 29-34.,
Ozel, A.,The practice of information processing model in the teaching of cognitive strategies. 36(1), 59-68.
Piotrowsk. C. & Gallant, N., Research use of clinical measures of anxiety in the recent psychological literature. 36(1), 84-6.
Radhakrishnan, P., Lam, D., & Ho, G., Giving University students incentives to do homework improves their performance. 36(3), 219-24.
Ratanasiripong, P., & Ghafoori, B., Setting up the on-site marriage and family therapy clinical training course. 36(4), 347-351.
Reig, S.A. & Paquette, K.R., Using drama and movement to enhance English language learners' literacy development. 36(2), 148-154.
Salinas, M.F. & Garr, J., Effect of learner-centered education on the academic outcomes of minority students. 36(3), 226-37.
Segrist, D. & Pawlow, L., Whom do you know? Demonstrating networking in careers in psychology course. 36(4), 352-356.
Shen, Yi. & Tsai, HC., Design principles of work examples: A review of the imperial studies. 36(3), 238-44.
Shirvani, H, Does your elementary mathematics methodology class correspond to constructivist epistemology? 36(3), 245-258.
Simplicio, J., The Art of the Favor: The connection between networking and personal influence within a college. 36(2), 155-7.
Supon, V., Cursive Writing: Are its last days approaching? 36(4), 357-359.
Sze, S., Learning and the special needs child. 36(4), 360-362.
Tareef, A.B., Scientific research in Jordanian higher education institutions: Status and obstacles. 36(2), 158-69.

Umar, F.M., Street Hawking: Oppressing the girl child or family economic supplement? 36(2), 169-74.
Ward, K. & Schwartzman, R., Building interpersonal relationships as a key to Effective Speaking Center collaborations. 36(4), 363-372.